Dear Chairman Wheeler,

At the Children's Lifesaving Foundation we have assisted more than 75,000 at-risk and homeless youth since 1993. We are located in Los Angeles and are dedicated to improving the lives of children and their families who find themselves without home security. Our goal is to guide families back to domestic independence. As a 501(c)(3) we rely on donations and corporate support to fund our programs. Time Warner Cable has been a phenomenal partner, and we are fully supportive of its merger with Charter Communications and Bright House Networks.

Our work with Time Warner has grown significantly in just a short time. The company has offered both financial and networking support that has certainly expanded our capabilities. We are confident in New Charter because we know that Charter and Bright House also have similar reputations for community investment. For example, Charter Our Community is a program that is working to rebuild 20,000 unsafe and unhealthy homes by 2020. Meanwhile, Bright House offers a low-income program that provides quality broadband to customers at a reduced rate. Each of these programs would be adopted and expanded under New Charter across a wider national footprint.

With more resources and a customer base of nearly 24 million, New Charter would have the capacity to bring real change to the communities it serves. We are fortunate to have benefited from Time Warner, and we are confident that New Charter will do the same for organizations like us across the country.

Sincerely,

Maria D'Angelo
